DAVID ZURBORG

The inspiring blond athlete on the front cover is making his "debut" into the world of physique posing. A most promising and exciting "first!" Until recently, Dave Zurborg was a typical high school athlete with a good solid build. About a year ago he started to train seriously in a local gym. The wonders that have taken place in the last few months are quite obvious in the pictures presented here. Not only has he got one terrific body, he has taken on a whole new personality; one that is smiling, fresh, and most of all, sincere. Dave has always been interested in athletics and has stacked up some fine records in high school football, basketball and track. Since making the trek from Kentucky to California, he has discovered, as Dave would say, "the greatest,"—Ocean Surfing. The young man and the sea have struck up a beautiful friendship and one that will help give Dave an opportunity to keep his young body in perfect condition. We might add that getting all these shots of Dave in many various positions was a major job in itself. Seems that a football knee has played havoc earlier during the year and each time a session was scheduled, Dave was handgled or catating to the "trick" knee. So to make a long story short, all's well that ends well. Dave is now in tip-top condition—Bruce has the best "model debut" in months—and you, the reader,—well, read on my more!

JOHN BAREFOOT

In Albuquerque we had the pleasure of meeting a rugged westerner—John Barefoot. John hailed from Tucuman, New Mexico, and Cherokee blood plus some Irish and German blood flowed through his veins. He played all sports in high school but confined himself to varsity and at the Univ. of New Mexico. His major was commercial art.

Three featurettes of John Baraboo are available. Each series is made in 4x5 size on double-weight silk-matte paper. Order by name and type.

DON FULLER

"Anybody need a leading man?" That phrase has been echoed throughout Hollywood for years and sooner or later someone always has a part, big or little. Don Fuller is our nomination for the rough and tough "he-Man" role. Several years of rugged training in football and later workouts in gym has made Don's body a truly remarkable accomplishment. He came to Hollywood from Arizona where he had impressed them with his all-time great track records. After getting established as an actor on the West Coast, Don set about to get acting jobs. To keep in excellent shape and make the rounds of the local racing agencies is a full time job in itself, but Don has managed to take on part time work and add jobs to keep going. He tried the motorcycle, a la Beards, the same sophisticated, the gunlinger and many other roles. You name it, Don has probably tried it. Let's face it, he's versatile. And as near as we can tell, the day is near that will spell the future success for this handsome young fellow.

Scott, 2, was named by a 1960s old lady in Pasadena.

What can be more invigorating than a brisk walk along the beach when a gusty wind is blowing a high spray from the pounding surf . . . and then in the protection of a life guard tower, pull off one's shirt, and absorb the warm sun.

BILL ROBB

"Who's been rubbed the wrong way?"

While Bruce was making one of his many cross-country hops, he discovered Bill Robb stationed with the U.S. Army in Albuquerque. Bill tells us that he limited his athletic talents to high school track where he specialized in the cross country run. Seems inevitable that he and Bruce should eventually get together. Bruce framed the rugged beauty of the New Mexico foothills with Bill's dynamic body and came up with an outstanding artistic result.
